Good practice for Health and Safety in the rail sector.

Pragma

Our IOSH Leading Safely in the Rail Sector course is essential learning for senior leaders and will add value to you and your organisation.

Safety should be led from the top and be incorporated into management systems. Better Health and Safety practice is a genuine investment for your organisation.

This session, delivered over 5 hours, has been tailored to the rail sector and draws lessons from the RAIB Accident Investigation Report after the fatal accident at Margam in July 2019.

Our IOSH Leading Safely course helps rail industry leaders to shape their organisational Health and Safety objectives. This course helps you to:

- Understand good Health and Safety practice from around the world
- Benchmark your Health and Safety performance against others
- Shape your Health and Safety vision and identify the steps you can take to achieve it

Companies in the rail industry can be rewarded with:

- Reduced accident rates, absence and sick leave
- Increased productivity and profits
- Improved reputation among suppliers, clients and partners
- Reduced insurance premiums and legal costs
- Improved business continuity

Delegates receive:

- Access to a safety leadership community, with news from IOSH and up-to-date discussions on safety leadership from trainers and delegates
- An app to access their diagnostic tool/action planner
- A certificate confirming successful completion of the course, issued by IOSH

Assessment

Learners use the IOSH diagnostic tool, accessed via a mobile app, to identify their current Health and Safety position against a set of critical questions. The tool recommends the actions you should take. At the end of the course, we can help you make a commitment to an action plan to improve your organisation's Health and Safety Management.
