

Seminar: Asbestos Hygiene Standards and Limits

An opportunity for legal professionals to develop their understanding of hygiene standards and limits in asbestos related claims

Pragma

Tuesday 27th January 2026, 10am - 1pm

It may be necessary to consider asbestos exposure in the context of the numerical standards of the day. In the absence of technical knowledge as to what the standards mean, considering the implication of these in practice can be daunting. This is an opportunity for those involved in asbestos claims to obtain a better understanding of the basis of the numerical standards applicable over time, the implications of these for an employer and what they mean in the context of the general knowledge available.

This seminar includes:

- An overview of how numerical standards changed over time
- Background to where numerical standards came from
- Consideration of how an employer might ensure compliance with these standards
- What the standards meant in the context of the day
- Opportunity for open discussion and questions

Your speakers

Tina Conroy MChem DipOH CMFOH

Tina has over 15 years' experience of identifying, assessing and controlling occupational health hazards, including asbestos, and advising employers of their duties. Tina has prepared hundreds of reports for the Court to assist in asbestos related disease claims. She also has experience of providing verbal evidence in Court, including in the matter of Cuthbert v Taylor Wimpey.

Dave Maddison BSc(Hons) CoCA MFAAM TechIOSH

Dave has extensive first-hand experience undertaking the measurement of airborne fibre concentrations following the removal and disturbance of asbestos containing materials. Dave provides evidence in asbestos cases including assessment of asbestos exposure for dose and apportionment and consideration of duty holders' actions in line with the knowledge and standards contemporaneous with exposure.

This is a free in-person event with limited spaces available.
To book your place contact Laura Hooper on:

01302 499050

laurahooper@pragmaandassociates.co.uk

Pragma+Associates

Parking available at our office: 8 South Parade, Doncaster, DN1 2DY